18.15 – 19.45

Legal Aspects of Climate Change

DR. COSMIN CORENDEA

United Nations University
Institute for Environment and Human Security

Dr. Cosmin Corendea holds the Doctor of Juridical Science (S.J.D.) distinction in International Legal Studies from Golden Gate University School of Law in San Francisco and he received his LL.M. in Intercultural Human Rights with honours from Saint Thomas University Law School in Miami.

He serves as Associate Academic Officer at the United Nations University Institute for Environment and Human Security, managing the Munich Re Foundation (MRF) Chair Project on Social Vulnerability which initiates policy-relevant research and organizes capacity-building in the respective area. His current research focuses on environmentally induced migration in different areas, institutional vulnerabilities and disaster risk management.

Best known for initiating and developing the concept of 'international hybrid law' in 2007 – a legal research tool which uses human rights, environmental and refugee/migration law in climate change-related case analysis – his experience includes field research in the Pacific, Europe and Asia, and consultancies for different universities, organizations and United Nations agencies.

COMING LECTURES:

Prof. David Attard
(Judge at the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea)

Dr. Freya Baetens
